NO MORE Consumption, CANCERS or Chronic Diseases

You have tried these poison doctors for a hundred years, and the poison has weakened the digestive organs until typhoid fever has carried away a fourth of your loved ones.

And these drug weakened nerves have let so much stagnant blood accumulate in your bodies that it has attempted to cleanse itself and escape in sores, Appendicitis, Eczema, Catarrh, Ulcers of Stomach, Liver, Intestines, Varicose Veins, Piles, etc. And when kidneys and intestines tried to excrete the waste it was contradicted and stopped by doctoring symptoms and cutting off the sore part until this stagnant blood was sealed in your bodies and settled in your weakened lungs and formed abscesses. Cough medicines were given to weaken the nerve so you couldn't cough it up. And consumption has followed until one-third of the human race has been cut down in their prime and died with consumption as a result of this drug taking.

It is time to forbid their use by law, as the greatest curse that has ever fastened itself on the human race.

We have weighed them in the balance and found them wanting. It is time for the intelligent people to rise up and turn them down forever. Just think, Osteopathy here in El Paso has saved all but eight out of eight thousand patients, every kind of disease, and powerlessness, and left you either worse than before or in your grave in any instance. And, besides, have made it impossible for you to contract Tuberculosis, or Cancer, or Typhoid Fever. No wonder forty states have passed laws recognizing it as the natural way to cure diseases, and forty million of people have recognized it, and all in seventeen years. For they free the nerve so the stagnant blood cannot accumulate any more in the body and can escape. Then all these sores and diseased parts heal up, as they are not needed any more. So, consumption and cancer and chronic diseases are impossible to people who take Osteopathic treatments. Don't be foolish and join this great army that is marching to the grave by the dose and knife route, but try Osteopathy and live out your natural, healthy and happy life.

HOPPE IS ORDERED TO LEAVE FRANCE

Paris, France, Feb. 25.—The police have notified Willie Hoppe of New York, the world's billiard champion at 16.1 and 16.2 balls, that an order of expulsion is out against him and he has given him until Tuesday to quit the country.

The order was issued by premier Clemenceau in 1907, but Hoppe left France before he could be served upon him. He returned to France recently. Willie Hoppe, accompanied by his bride, a daughter of Thomas Walsh, sailed from New York Feb. 11 on board the steamer Kaiser Auguste Victoria. His destination was Paris where he had accepted an offer of the Olympia academy to give exhibitions against the leading French billiard experts. It was said Hoppe was to receive $1000 a month during his engagement.

Few Changes In League Teams For Coming Season

Some Best Bets in Pitching
Line May Be Figured Out Now.

(By Monte).

A glance at the roster of the American and National league teams shows that few changes have been made for the coming season. Practically no shifts of importance have been announced and now that the meetings are over and the schedules have been adopted, we can sit back and content ourselves with reading the dope until the magic call "play ball" is sounded on April 12th.

Pitchers are very important actors in a pennant drama. By taking a peep at the past performances of several star twirlers we may get a line on the chances of a few of the teams, although dope of this kind is likely to go wrong, as a pitcher's arm is a questionable article. In last year's race the American league pitchers did pretty well cornered for good pitchers. It was the superior twirling of Connie Mack's men that landed the world's series for the Athletics. The Cubs were unable to do anything with Combs or Bender, while the Athletics had no trouble in connecting with the Windy City twirlers.

The only "no hit" games of the season were pitched by two American league men—Bender, of the Athletics, and Addie Joss, of Cleveland. Bender's performance occurred on May 12th against Cleveland, while Joss pitched his no-hit game against the Chicago White Sox on April 20th.

Mack Holds Good Men.
Mack has not disposed of any of his good men. Combs, Bender and Plank are all there, and from present indications are in as good shape as ever. Bender led the American league pitchers last year with a percentage of .821, while Combs was third with .775, and Plank ninth with .615. With these such men and the large number of recruits from which to choose, the Athletics' pitching staff should be one of the best in the league.

Manager Hal Chase, of the New York Yankees, has signed up all last year's stars. At the close of last season young Russel Ford stood second in the American league pitching ranks, with a percentage of .813. This young man proved a twirling sensation of the year and during the coming season he should develop into one of the greatest twirlers in the world. Quinn, Vaughn and Warhop have also signed up for the season, and while they are not in Ford's class, they show possibilities of development.

Jennings' Best Bets.
Donovan and Mullen are Hughie Jennings' two best bets. Last year Donovan won 18 and lost 7 games, and had a percentage of .726, being fourth in line while Mullen won 21 and lost 12, his percentage being .654. There are also Willet and Summers, but the latter did not show good form last year.

The Boston Red Sox have several good twirlers who should help to make things interesting in the pennant race. They are Collins, Smith, Karger, Hall and Cleotis. Washington still holds on to Johnson, who was very much overworked last year, and who is again the one best bet for the capital city.

National League Differentials.
In the National league we find the situation slightly different. The pitching staff of the champions, the Chicago Cubs, appears to be going back. Chicago made the best showing last year, winning 20 games and losing but four. Mordecai Brown, who was the sensation of the season a few years ago, won 25 games, but lost 14, and towards the end of the season showed the effects of being overworked. Overall, Reulbach and McIntyre are still on the roster, and their rest during the winter months may have brought them back to their original form.

The staff which looks the best in the National league is that of the New York Giants. Mathewson, of course, heads the list. Last year he won 27 games and lost nine, finishing the season with a percentage of .750, slightly below that of King Cole, of Chicago, although the latter did not figure in so many contests.

There are also Wiltsie, Ames, Crandall, Drucke, Raymond and Marquard, besides a host of recruits from the minor leagues. Last year Drucke made an unusually good showing for a newcomer, winning more than half the games he pitched, and his work is expected to show a marked improvement this year.

Phillips' Record.
Phillips captured first honors on the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh Pirates although he only pitched five whole games. His record, however, shows that he won 14 and lost two, while his percentage is given as .875. Adams is the next best bet; he won 15 games last year and lost nine, finishing with a percentage of .687, just below Mathewson, of New York. Camnitz, a star in former years, dropped away down the line, losing 13 games and winning but 12, while Leftfield made a very fair showing, winning 15 games losing 13, and finishing with a percentage of .536.

Other pitchers whose percentage augurs well for the future, are Suggs, of Cincinnati, Riddle, who was formerly with Boston, but is now with Chicago Cubs; Moore, of Philadelphia; and Barger, of Brooklyn.

But Hooper was determined to show his appreciation of our valor and offered to pay all the expenses of conducting a monster benefit game for us. Having secured players to make up two teams we had to draft some local talent. Watkins was manager and Hanlon was captain of one side. Hooper managed the other nine which I captained. Hanlon and Hooper tossed for choice of players and naturally Hanlon got the better team. When the game started it looked like a hundred to one shot for our chances. But we had lots of luck, played above our speed, perhaps, and wanted to hold the issue a tossup all the way. At the end of the ninth inning the score stood 1 to 1. Hanlon's team could not score in the 10th. There were two out for us when Thompson cracked out a two-bagger. The next ball was hit to Shelbeck, but he slipped as he started for it and it rolled past him for a base knock. I have often seen excited fans. But this man Hooper had every one's ways. He blew us to the greater dinner he could buy and insisted in adding a handsome sum to our several portions from the receipts. I do not think that any of us will ever forget Jack Hooper.

THE NEXT YEAR.
In Boston the following year those of us who were sold to that club came in contact with some of the best baseball men the country has ever produced. James A. Hart was manager.

LAUDERBACK WINS SECOND.
Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 25.—David Lauderback of Brooklyn won the second game of the national amateur billiard league series here last night by a score of 50 to 44. The game went 101 innings. H. Ernst, who started for Kansas City, was replaced in the 39th inning, when the score stood 38 to 14 in favor of the Brooklyn player, by J. P. Backus.

Mutt and Jeff are with us. Another appearance today on Classified page. Every day in The Herald hereafter.

Richardson Tells How the Old Detroiters Went Into Oblivion

Dropped From World Championship to Obscurity in Twelve Months.
By Hardie Richardson.

FROM world's championship fame to oblivion within a 12 month was the unprecedented record of the old Detroit club of 1887. In the 1888 we got a good start in the race for the pennant and everything went nicely until the 9th of July. At that time we had the field struck out and we were three games to the good. Then something broke. It may have been bad luck, but bad luck does not usually follow a good team so persistently. We lost 16 straight games and it took the crimp out of us. Things went from bad to worse. People would not patronize us either at home or on the road. The players were put up at auction and sold to the highest bidder. Sam Thompson went to Philadelphia, Rowe and White to Pittsburgh; Bennett, Ganzel, Brothers and myself were disposed of to Boston. Thus passed the Detroit's world's champions of 1887, in many respects the greatest bunch of athletes ever assembled in one club.

Almost Made Good.
By the way, it was at the expense of Boston, the club to which I was later sold, that Detroit broke its long losing streak. Getzine pitched for us that day. He had vowed some time previously that if we ever did win again he would drop dead. And he almost kept his word. As the last man was rattled Getzine took a back fall. In going so, he struck the back of his head with such force that he was rendered unconscious for some hours. It was feared at first that he had fractured his skull.

But, if we made a sorry showing after a good start that year we sure had lots of fun getting the start. We trained in the spring at Mobile, Ala. There we met a rabid fan named Jack Hooper, who had cleaned up $50,000 in bets on us against the St. Louis Browns the preceding fall. At least he said he had done so and as he always had plenty of money with him we didn't think necessary to argue. He wanted to blow the players to wine supper every night we were there. But, of course, manager Watkins set his foot down hard on the proposition. Watly couldn't see how such generosity could improve our batting eyes.

But Hooper was determined to show his appreciation of our valor and offered to pay all the expenses of conducting a monster benefit game for us. Having secured players to make up two teams we had to draft some local talent. Watkins was manager and Hanlon was captain of one side. Hooper managed the other nine which I captained. ## 'HOPES' ARE JOKES TO CHAMPION

Jack Johnson Thinks That Fighters Are Born and Not Made.

By W. W. Naughton

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 25.—There is a telling, of course, what a year, or even a few months, may bring forth, but for the present the pugilistic situation, so far as it affects the heavyweights, has been completely flattened out by one Jack Johnson.

On the part of the public there is neither interest nor speculation in the doings of the big fellows. The notion has crystallized, apparently, that Johnson is unbeatable, and until something crops up to create doubt on this point, the question of the world's championship may be regarded as something that has been laid away in lavender.

For proof of this, hark back to the way Johnson's coming to San Francisco was handled by the San Francisco papers. There were comparative meager reports of the champion's arrival the morning after. Since then there has been no mention of him, unless maybe a brief reference to an arrest for speeding. Johnson himself seems content to have it that way. Fighting is the thing furthest from his mind, and, strange though it may seem, he is not courting publicity.

Is Arrested Often.
He has a singular out by the sad sea waves, but it is merely a starting point for automobile trips. It is very seldom that he is to be found there. For Jack Johnson now, the world is one big boulevard and he has discarded his boxing gloves for goggles. He is arrested so frequently that some one has advised him to inquire into the feasibility of securing a season ticket or a book of fine coupons. It has been pointed out to him that he could hand a coupon to each park policeman who stops him for fast driving, and thus do away with the necessity of getting up early in the morning to attend court.

Johnson is the dullest subject an interviewer ever tackled. That is, if the interviewer is after "big talk." In order to get the big negro to discuss with brightness and intelligence any question relating to pugilism, one has to lay a foundation for each discussion by posting him as to what is the subject. Without such stimulus his mind is a blank, and at any rate, his lackadaisical manner would lead you to such a conclusion.

The writer contrived to get Johnson to discuss the subject a day or two ago, by quizzing him about the large number of practically untried heavyweights that were being so extensively advertised. Johnson had not spoken a dozen words before it became apparent that he considers the "hope" industry a huge joke. He warmed up slightly to his subject after a while and prattled along without further questioning.

All of Them Jokes.
"This fellow Carl Morris, who has been taken in hand by an Oklahoma millionaire, is the biggest joke of the lot," said Jack. "When he was first spoken of I was slightly interested and made up my mind to watch his career, but I see he is not to have any career for awhile. They are going to coddle him and try and bring him along unmet even a third rate man, if my information is correct, but they're going to employ trainers and coaches and give him a private ring education. That settles Morris, in my opinion, because you can't make a fighter out of a fighter, but all the ability that way. Experience is the most valuable part of a fighter's stock in trade, and the only way you can gain experience is by giving and taking hard knocks in real fights."

Ability, of course, is the first essential with a fighter, but all the ability in the world is useless unless you have learned by experience how to employ it. There is very little difference between pugilists and horses. I have to do with horses. You can take the classical yearling that was ever bred and schooled and he will be beaten every time you ask him to hook up with a yearling. I know what I am talking about, and when I read that this fellow Carl Morris was to be kept out of the game and not allowed to gain his knowledge by taking the rough with the smooth, as the rest of us had to do, it did not take me long to decide that he would never be heard from as a championship factor.

Fighters Are Born, Not Made.
Johnson holds that the most successful fighters of modern days are born and not made, and feeling that way about it, he is all the more inclined to scoff at any scheme for turning out a world's champion with the aid of paid professors.

He says that in the old days when prizefighting was largely undeveloped, and when every claimant of boxing had to rely upon strength, lefts and short crosses as a means of assault, the idea of teaching boxing was all right.

Nowadays, in Jack's opinion, the world beaters are all fellows who possess a style of their own, and the man who gets his lines from a boxing manual or a professor of boxing has small chance of advancing.

"Show me the man who only knows the old order of leading, crossing, and has no wrinkles of his own, and I'll show you a fellow who will be licked every time he stands up," said Jack—and he said it as though he believed it.

MAGNATES OF TEXAS LEAGUE CALL A MEETING.

Lineup of League and Playing
Schedule to Be Arranged March 14.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 25.—A meeting of the Texas league baseball magnates will be held in Houston March 14 at which time the clubs which will form the league will be definitely decided upon and the schedule for the coming season announced. This will be the most important meeting of the year.

There now seems a possible solution of the Oklahoma City mix-up in the proposition which comes from M. J. Finn of Little Rock. Finn has been trying to break into the Texas league for a number of years, having made several propositions looking to the entrance of Little Rock into this league. He now offers to purchase a share in the Oklahoma City team, assume the management of the Indians and put a winning team in the field.

Finn last season won the pennant for the Waterbury club in the Connecticut league and has ten men on the reserve list of that club which he proposes to transfer to Oklahoma City. The Texas league magnates are anxious to get Finn into the league and his proposition is looked upon with favor.

Spring Practice Starts Monday.
Regular spring practice was begun at Dallas Monday and the Fort Worth team will report for duty next Tuesday. The Dallas and lots are 30 promising recruits and the Fort Worth team is shaping for games with the New York Giants Sunday and Monday, Feb. 26 and 27. A number of the new Dallas men who are on the "round look good. One of the most promising is McAdams, a big finger, who is picked as the star of the twirling staff this season. He is from Benton, Ark., but played last year with Waco. He was always a hard man to beat. While with Muskogee, Okla., he was purchased by the St. Louis Browns, but was never given a chance to play.

Another recruit is Gill Pittman, who was purchased from the Newton club of the Kansas State league. Last season he hit .280. His home is in Los Angeles; he is 20 years old and weighs, when in training, 170 pounds.

Michael J. Joske from Milwaukee, Wis., has also donned a Dallas uniform. He is pitcher and last season won 17 games and lost nine. He allowed only 236 runs in the 26 games and struck out 236 men.

McDonald, a Texas boy who will play shortstop for Dallas, has also signed his contract. His home is in Vernon. Last year was his first professional experience but he is more than up to the job.

The only club in the Dallas line up is the demand of Maag, the star second baseman, for a substantial increase in pay. As Dallas has a good man in Ens it may be rather hard for Maag to establish his demands and there is a possibility that he may be lost to the Texas league.

Fort Worth will line up the following youngsters when the team reports for duty: Catcher Ritter, first baseman Miller, third baseman Curtis, pitcher Rubin Benson, catcher Franke, pitcher Watson and Pitcher A-roston.

Appleton was secured from the Longview Cannibals, where he pitched most excellent baseball last year. Franke comes from the St. Louis City league. More than a dozen other players are much impressed with his possibilities. Watson is a brother of Cy Watson, who has been delivering the goods for Houston. Ritter and Robinson come from the Western association and Miller from the Arkansas State league.

Houston is also rounding into shape. Doak Roberts, one of the owners, announces two valuable acquisitions to the team. One is Tom Browne of Springfield, Mo., who was purchased from Burlington in the Central association. With that club last season he not only fielded sensationally but hit .288 and stole 51 bases.

Dan Stewart, who used to umpire in the old North Texas league when Roberts perambulated around that territory, recommended Jack Thiery, the other addition to the Houston team. Thiery has been playing outfield for Jimmy Callahan's famous Logan Square team in Chicago. In that league Thiery batted over .300 and it must be concluded he is a good one for the team had a national reputation.

Roberts will also go to St. Louis early during the coming week to confer with president Hegges and manager Wallace of the St. Louis Browns. There is a deal on for several of the Houston players who were purchased last year by St. Louis to be returned to Texas. Roberts is anxious for Pat Newman back. As he is held in the St. Louis camp it is probable that the deal can be arranged in a satisfactory manner. Newman has the best record of any first baseman that ever played in Texas and Roberts seems able to handle him to advantage.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Tried Many Remedies but Grew Worse
—Impossible to Do Housework
—Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"About six years ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time. At last they became so sore that it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put my hands in water I was in agony; if I tried to cook, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but without the least satisfaction. After about a year of this suffering, I got my first relief when I tried Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. After using them for a week I found to my great delight that my hands were beginning to feel much better, the deep cracks began to heal up and stop running, and in a little while my hands were cured by using only one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I am very thankful to say that I have had no return of the skin disease since. I shall be glad to give you my name, so that others may know of Cuticura. Mrs. Minnie Drew, 23 Danforth St., Jamaica Plain, Mass., April 20, 1910."

For thirty years Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded speedy relief to tens of thousands of the most tortured and distressed sufferers from eczema, rashes, itching, irritations and chafings, from infancy to age, bringing comfort and peace to distracted households when all else failed.

The Boston team of the American league will also play a number of exhibition games in Texas. On March 25 a game will be played at Abilene, a March 30 at Fort Worth and on the following day at Dallas. A game at Oklahoma City April 1 will wind up the southern tour.

HACKENSCHMIDT TO WRESTLE WITH ORDEMAN

Colorado Springs, Colo., Feb. 25.—George Hackenschmidt, the Russian Lion, has been matched to wrestle Henry Ordeaman, the Minneapolis giant.

The match was secured by Empire A. C. of Kansas City for March 8.

In the match here last night Hackenschmidt won from Carl Landow, of Chicago in straight falls. The first was gained in 17 minutes and the second in eight minutes.

Landow gave a brilliant defensive exhibition, getting out of many dangerous holds by his remarkable quickness, but the strength of the Russian was too much for him. The first fall was secured with a windmill hold, which is rarely seen in this country, and the second with a double bridge.

LONGSHOTS IN EVIDENCE.

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 25.—Winning long shots were very much in evidence at Monrovia, the odds on the several horses ranging from 3-1 to 50 to 1. The last named price was laid against Rhaseeth, winner of the first race on the card. It was her first start here. Prince Like captured the feature, a purse event at one mile and a sixteenth.

BIG CROWD AT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 25.—Women's day with the riders race as the feature and one of the best cards offered at the Tampa track at the meeting combined to bring out a large crowd. The men's race was won by Langford on Haymarket an outsider in the betting. The impressive victory of Sweet Owen was a blow to the bookmakers.
